SOME TIPS FOR CREATING AN EFFECTIVE CV

- Include a link to your LinkedIn profile and portfolio site to showcase relevant work and help recruiters learn more about you.
- Include a personal statement that is concise yet informative, highlighting your skills and experiences relevant to the position.
- Remember to add how long you have been in a particular role. Write out the years and months. For example: Jan. 2030 to June 2032 (2 years and 5 months).
- When writing your achievements and responsibilities for a job, it is ideal to follow this format: "I have achieved X by doing Y with a result of Z." Quantitative information is highly preferred.
- Only list skills you are confident in and are relevant to the job. You may also list specific software or tools essential for the role.
- Adding volunteer work and other interests is a great way to showcase your ambition and motivation.
- Adding your photo to a CV is optional. Photos help recruiters remember you, but there is a risk of unconscious bias.
- Do not crowd your CV. Feel free to use a second page to outline your educational background and other achievements and awards.
- Make sure the CV's design aesthetic matches the job you are applying for. For creative roles, you may choose CVs designed with touches of color. For more corporate roles, go for a simpler design.
- A list of references is no longer required in CVs, but consider adding a line like 'references are available upon request' to indicate your willingness to provide names when needed.

- Portfolio
- Contact Information
- Skills & Relevant Software
- Educational Background
- Volunteering and Other Interests

IMPORTANT:

Download your CV as a PDF.

Do not use docx, png, or jpg since an applicant tracking system may not be able to properly display the file or scan the text. If needed, rename the PDF file in the format indicated by the recruiter.
